Reflective Practice: Formation and Supervision in Ministry

Reflective Practice: Formation and Supervision in Ministry is a journal that seeks to understand, expand, and promote theory, learning, and reflection in the practice of supervision and formation in various ministries from diverse ethnic and religious perspectives. While this journal welcomes essays and readers from a wide range of disciplines, the practice on which we reflect remains focused on formation and supervision in and for the sake of strengthening religious leaders. Only articles related to these goals will be considered for publication. Reflection on formation and supervision in ministry from nations and cultures outside of the United States are especially invited. Book reviews are welcome, also.

Reflective Practice is now an Open Access journal—free to anyone with Internet access; no registration required. Reflective Practice Volumes 27–30 and the Journal of Supervision and Training in Ministry Volumes 22–26 are available in the archives at <http://journals.sfu.ca/rpfs/>.

Author Guidelines. Authors should submit their articles electronically to the editor at handerson@plts.edu. Articles should not exceed twenty pages doubled-spaced. Notes should be indicated with superior numerals and placed as end-notes at the conclusion of the article. A cover sheet should show the title of the article, the author's (or authors') name, academic degrees, title, institution, mailing and e-mail addresses. Determination to publish an article will be made by readers from the Editorial Board and others whose expertise relates to the topic of the essay. Proposals for unsolicited articles and theory papers for ACPE and AAPC for publication in Volume 33, 2013 should be submitted to the editor by December 1, 2012. Each volume is distributed electronically or in print form in May of each year.

You are invited to visit our website at www.reflective-practice.org.
